² The blessed servant of God, Augustine Schœffler, was born A.D. 1822 in the diocese of Nancy in France, and was a pupil in the Petit Séminaire at Pont-à-Mousson at the time that the Abbé Jandel, afterwards Master-General of the

The young Augustine was received into the Third Order and made his profession at Nancy in 1846, in which year he joined the Paris Society of Foreign Missions. In the following year he was sent to Western Tonquin, where he laboured zealously in the districts committed to his charge until he received the crown of martyrdom, being beheaded at Son-Tay on May 1, 1851. He was beatified by Pope Leo XIII. with the other seventy-six Martyrs of Annam and China, A.D. 1900.
